

At Nursery Today

At Nursery Today was developed in collaboration with Ofsted outstanding nursery The Garden House in Sheffield, where it is now used every day. This joint development ensures our app meets the real world needs of parents and staff.

At Nursery Today provides nurseries with a simple, paperless way to record each child's day at nursery. It keeps parents updated about their child's activities and lets the nursery track a child's Early Years Foundation Stage progress.

Features:

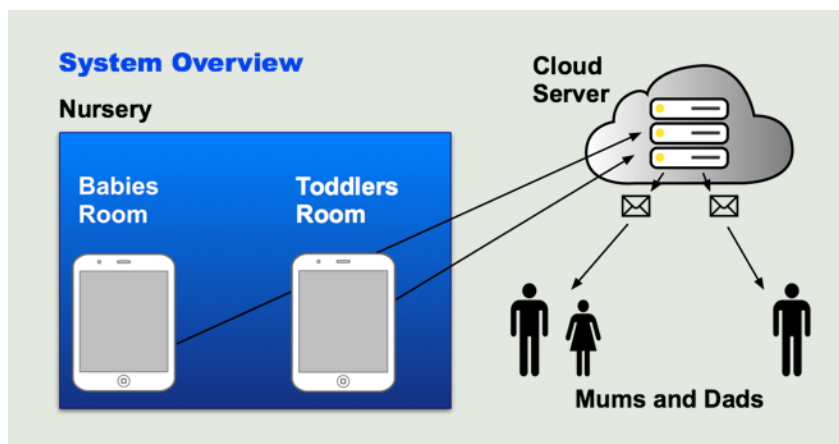

- Fast, easy to use tablet app can record activities, sleep, food and other parts of a child's day
- Daily reports can be emailed to parents at the end of each day
- Optional website lets parents view past reports, activities, photos
- Easy administration website lets nursery staff add children, customise reports, email parents etc
- Larger nurseries can share information between rooms where children move around

Capture work with the camera

Early Years Foundation Stage:

- Staff add child observations and parents can add home observations on the parents website
- Tag activities and observations with EYFS categories
- Search and download EYFS information using a simple website with a growing feature list

How it works: Tablets in the nursery record a child's day and upload the reports to our servers which then email the parents

What you need:

1. Android tablets - we can provide these
2. PC or laptop with modern browser (optional but helps)
3. A broadband internet connection or 3G or 4G

Benefits:

- Differentiate yourself from other nurseries and gain a unique selling point
- No more printing costs and the hassle of paper - saves staff time in comparison to alternatives
- Tablet forms ensure less mistakes and spell checking. More professional than pen and paper forms
- Can provide a rich history of nursery activities - useful for both for your records and for Ofsted
- EYFS progress is much easier to record and to search, and children's diaries are easier to create
