

At Nursery Today

‘At Nursery Today’ provides nurseries with a simple, paperless way to record each child’s day at nursery. It keeps parents informed about their child’s activities each day and lets nurseries track a child’s development progress.

Features:

- Fast, easy to use tablet app for recording activities, sleep, food and other parts of a child’s day
- Daily reports can be emailed to parents at the end of each day
- Parents’ website lets parents/carers view past reports, activities, and photos
- Staff website makes it easy to add/edit children, rooms, tablets or even to email parents.
- Supports larger settings where children move between rooms and tablets over the course of a day

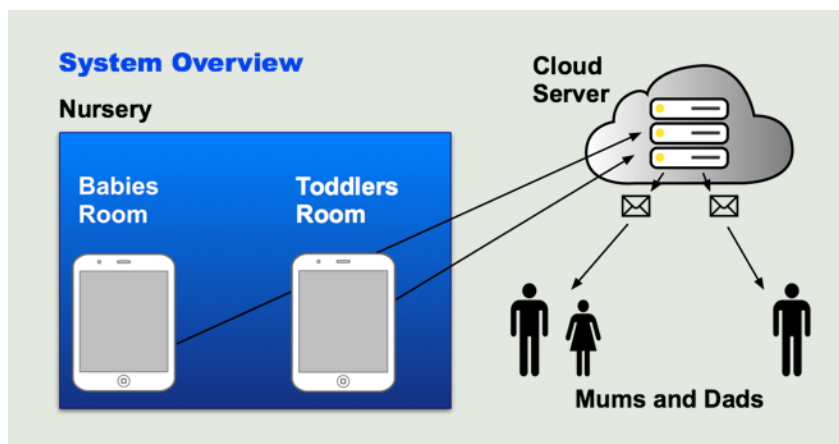

At Nursery Today was developed in collaboration with Ofsted outstanding nursery The Garden House in Sheffield, where it is now used every day. This joint development ensures our app meets the real world needs of parents and staff.

Capture work with the camera

Early Years Foundation Stage:

- Staff and parents can add child observations at nursery and at home
- Tag activities and observations with EYFS prime or specific areas and add development statements.
- Search and download EYFS information using a simple website with a growing feature list

How it works: Tablets in the nursery record a child's day and upload the reports to our servers which then email the parents

What you need:

1. Android tablets - we can provide these
2. PC or laptop with modern browser (optional but helps)
3. A broadband internet connection or 3G or 4G

Benefits:

- Differentiate yourself from other nurseries and gain a unique selling point
- No more printing costs and the hassle of paper - saves staff time in comparison to alternatives
- Tablets provide spell checking and reduce the errors that occur when filling in paper forms
- Can provide a rich history of nursery activities - useful for both for your records and for Ofsted
- EYFS progress is much easier to record and to search, and children's diaries are easier to create

Further info:

If you would like to know more, to request a trial or to learn about pricing then please call or email us. Further information is also available at the website info.atnurserytoday.co.uk

